Such a person who is not present at time of his/her turn for speech loses his/her right to speak. Speeches are addressed to the general assembly and is made in the place allocated therefor. The persons may change the order of speech amongst themselves. In cases which the period for speech is limited, when the speech period of a person making his/her speech in his/her turn is over, he/she may only continue his/her speech if the succeeding person gives his/her right of speech provided that he/she completes his/her speech within the speech period of the person who gave his/her turn of speech. The speech period cannot be extended in any other manner.

(2) Right of speech may be given by the chairman of the meeting to the members of the board of directors and auditors who want to make explanations about the matters being discussed regardless of the order of speech.

(3) Duration of the speeches are determined by the general assembly upon the proposal by the Chairman or shareholders by considering the intensity of the agenda, sheer multitude of the matters that are required to be discussed and importance of the issues requiring consideration and the number of those who wish to speak. In such cases, general assembly first resolves whether it is necessary to limit the duration of speech or not, and thereafter it resolves what the period will be by voting each of the foregoing separately.

(4) In respect of the communication of comments and suggestions by the shareholders or their representatives attending the general assembly in electronic media in accordance with the Article 1527 of the Law, the principles and procedures set forth in the foregoing article and sub regulations thereof are applied.

Voting and Procedure of Voting

ARTICLE 12- (1) Before starting voting, the chairman of the meeting declares the matter to be voted to the general assembly. If the draft of a resolution is to be voted, the voting takes place after it is determined in writing and it is read. One may only demand to speak about the procedure after it is declared that the voting will be initiated. In the meantime, in case of any shareholder who has not been given the opportunity to speak despite his/her demand, he/she exercises his/her right of speech provided that he/she reminds thereof to the Chairman and that it is verified by the Chairman. No one is given the opportunity to speak after the commencement of voting.

(2) Votes regarding the matters discussed during the meeting are exercised by means of raising hands or by standing up or by declaration of acceptance or rejection separately. These votes are counted by the chairmanship of the meeting. When needed, chairmanship may appoint a sufficient number of people to assist in counting. Those who have not raised their hands or who have not stand up or who have not made any declaration in any manner whatsoever are deemed to have rendered dissenting vote and such votes are deemed as to be given in opposition to the relevant resolution while making assessment thereof.

(3) Regarding matters in relation to voting by the shareholders and their representatives attending the general assembly electronically in accordance with the Article 1527 of the Law, the principles and procedures set forth by the foregoing article and sub regulations thereof shall be applied.

Transactions surpassing the maximum threshold allocated to a calendar year of Equity shares of the equity share or securities based on these shares and those transactions resulting in the surpassing or falling below of the shareholding and or voting rights above or below disclosure limits, are disclosed by the parties undertaking the transaction to ISE.

6. Deferring Public Disclosure of Inside Information
Inside information is information not yet revealed to the public, which may impact the value of the capital markets instrument and influence investors’ investment decisions.

Pursuant to the 15th Clause of the CMB Communiqué on Principles Governing Public Disclosure of Material Circumstances, the transactions requiring the decisions of the Board of Directors and Ordinary General Assembly are subject to deferment. Material Event Disclosures are deferred until the abovementioned decisions are taken. The deferring decisions are taken by the persons who are authorized to make public disclosure of material circumstances.

7. Precautions to Protect the Integrity of Inside Information until Public Announcement
As a general principle, TAV Airports Holding Inc. and the persons working for and on behalf of the Holding cannot share information subject to material event disclosure that has not yet been revealed to public. In case it is found that the insider information is revealed to third persons unintentionally and it is deemed that the information cannot be kept confidential then a material event disclosure is made instantly.

In the event of deferring the disclosure of the information, then the persons who have information regarding the deferral are listed and “TAV Airports Holding Inc.List of Insiders” is updated accordingly. Necessary actions are taken to notify both these persons and other informed parties and reasonable measures to that effect are taken.

The persons on the “insiders list” are notified by the Investor Relations Department that they are included in the list to enable compliance to confidentiality principles on inside information and keep the material event, financial and operational results information confidential until public disclosure. The Company signs confidentiality agreements with service providers that render services like consultancy, translation, etc. that need and utilize inside information while performing their tasks for and on behalf of the Company and thereby enforces them to keep the information confidential.

8. Communication with Capital Markets Participants
TAV does not comment on expectations about quarterly and annual results. Instead of this, TAV communicates on critical subjects affecting activity results, strategic methods and subjects that make the sector and the activities more understandable and thus informs the capital market participants. Unless explicitly otherwise stated in the disclosure policy, only authorized officers can communicate with capital markets participants about TAV. No material event can be disclosed during non-public interviews with capital markets participants. TAV Investor Relations Department participates in all meetings with capital markets participants.

One on One Interviews or Calls
Calls and face to face interviews with capital market investors are part of the development of the investor relations program. However TAV will not reveal new information, will not update current information and will not announce important and privileged information which has not been publicly disclosed before.

Quiet Period

TAV Airports’ spokespersons observe a “Quiet Period” for two weeks prior to the quarterly announcements of financial results. This “Quiet Period” ends with the disclosure of the quarterly financial results to the Borsa Istanbul Public Disclosure Platform (KAP).

During the “Quiet Period” TAV Airports will not provide any comments on the financial status of the company except for already disclosed information. People within the Company who have access to insider information will abstain from sharing such information with the public. The questions of capital market attendees such as analysts and investors regarding the financial status of the Company are not answered during that period. Observation of a “quiet period” does not preclude TAV Airports’ authorized spokespersons from attending conferences, forums, panels and making speeches and announcements provided these actions comply with the relevant capital markets legislation.
Presentations and/or Speeches
Whenever possible, the Company will publicly announce presentations, teleconferences or speeches in advance. TAV makes an effort not to participate in meetings which have not properly been announced to the public. Memos and/or slide presentations are made available on TAV’s website upon completion of the speech or teleconference (http://www.tavyatirimciiliskileri.com and http://ir.tav.aero). TAV makes an effort to guide the relevant parties, if possible, on simultaneous dissemination on the Internet of scheduled presentations.

9. Procedures Regarding the News in Media Tracking Mechanism
TAV Airports Holding Inc. monitors the news regarding the Holding in national media with a contracted media agency. Accordingly each morning the related news published in media are submitted to TAV Airports Holding Executives, Investor Relations Department and Corporate Communications Department. Besides, relevant news on data vendors is also monitored.

Market Rumors
The Company does not generally comment on market rumors or speculation. If the rumors or news is regarding deferred disclosure, the decision to continue to defer rests with the Company. The Company may, however, respond to rumors or speculation in certain circumstances upon request by CMB and/or ISE or if the Company decides that such response is necessary and appropriate.

News Regarding the Deferred Disclosure
In the event that despite all the precautions taken, news is published in the media regarding events where disclosure has been deferred to protect the rights of TAV Airports Holding Inc. the Company keeps silent in principle. However a press statement can be issued about the news to protect the interests of TAV Airports Holding Inc. and the investors. No contradictory statements or any other comments regarding the news can be made during deferral period. It can however be expressed that no information can be given about the process and the public will be informed when the situation becomes clearer.

10. Forward Looking Statements
TAV may, from time to time, make forward-looking statements in compliance with this policy. A forward-looking statement made in the Company’s written documents will be identified and accompanied with disclaimers that risks, uncertainties and other factors could cause actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in the forward-looking statement. The statements will only be made by authorized representatives by clearly expressing the disclaimers referred to above and by referring to a ready and written document as (press releases, information memorandum, disclosure within the CML). Forward looking statements are based on reasonable assumptions and estimates and can be revised upon deviation due to unforeseeable risks and developments.

11. Analyst Reports
TAV regards analyst reports as proprietary information belonging to the analyst’s firm and will not provide such reports on the Company’s website. The Company will not confirm, endorse, adopt or disseminate analysts’ reports. However, in certain limited circumstances, upon request, the Company may review specific factual assertions that an analyst intends to include in a report for the factual accuracy of historical information that is publicly available. The Company discloses the names and firms of analysts who cover the Company, on its website.

12. TAV Web Site
